

SPS Resources

Office of Admissions

Master's Degree Programs

We build and deliver flexible programs at the highest level for a broad array of people that lead to amazing career and educational outcomes.

Continuing Education

Our continuing education options include certificate and certification offerings, pre-college programs, auditing opportunities, and visiting-student options.

Career Design Lab

The CDL provides career services that empower students to design and navigate agile, purpose-driven, and meaningful careers in a global and evolving workplace.

Financial Aid Resources

The Office of Student Financial Planning is pleased to provide financial aid information to students enrolling in the School of Professional Studies.

Federal Financial Aid Eligibility

Grants and Work-Study

Please note that SPS does not offer scholarships.

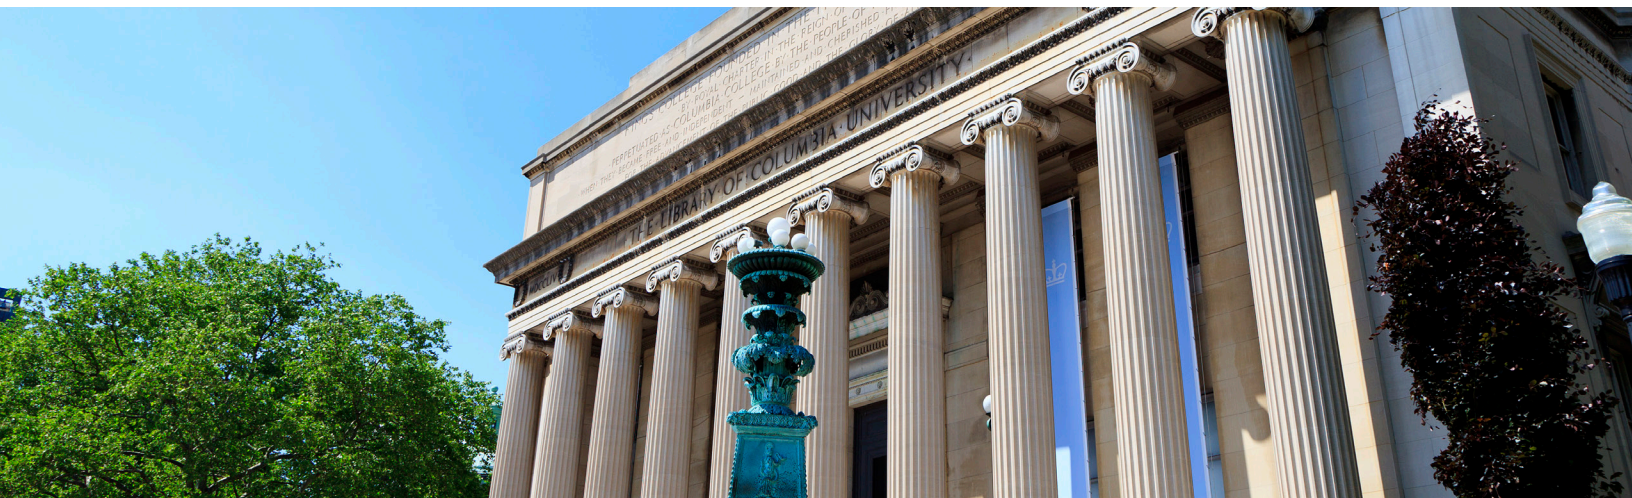

External Financial Awards

Loan Information

International Students

SPS Resources

Office of Admissions

International Students & Scholars Office

ISSO supports international students in preparing to move to New York City and throughout your enrollment at SPS. You can learn more about the visa process and employment options on the ISSO website.

Veterans' Resources

Veterans of the U.S. Armed Forces play an integral part in the student life, academic endeavors, and intellectual accomplishments of the School of Professional Studies and Columbia University as a whole.

Tomorrow's Minds at Work

Engage with the SPS community through news, insights, tips, and commentary from members of the Columbia University School of Professional Studies.

SPS Events

Join us for the many online and on-campus events hosted by SPS to learn more about our programs.

Student Life at SPS

The Office of Student Life aims to immerse students in professionally grounded student activities that foster development through community engagement and networking. We ensure our students are represented in the SPS Student Government and the Columbia University Senate.

Columbia Residential

SPS students have the opportunity to apply for housing through Columbia Residential. The Columbia Residential inventory consists of apartment shares and dormitory-style rooms. There are also a limited number of studio/efficiency, one-bedroom, and two-bedroom units prioritized for couples and families. Most housing is located within walking distance of the campus in the Morningside Heights neighborhood. Students are also housed in Manhattan Valley, just south of Morningside Heights. Additionally, some students are housed in Riverdale, Bronx, and at the Arbor. Shuttle service to and from the Arbor is provided.

