22 ABOUT THE SPEAKERS

TROY J. EGGERS

Troy Eggers has served Columbia with great distinction for more than two decades. Since joining the University in 2000, Eggers has excelled in a variety of senior positions within Columbia Business School, the School of International and Public Affairs, and the Office of the Provost. As executive vice provost, his portfolio included critical areas of academic management—financial planning, faculty housing, human resources, travel, emergency protocols, and space planning—in addition to oversight of the International Students & Scholars Office; Columbia University Press; the University Seminars; and the Alliance joint-venture between Columbia, École Polytechnique, Sciences Po, and Paris 1 Panthéon-Sorbonne University. Eggers has also served as a member of the University’s Emergency Management Operations Team and on the President’s Advisory Task Force on COVID-19.

Prior to his time in the Office of the Provost, Eggers served as senior associate dean of the School of International and Public Affairs, responsible for all student-related and administrative departments and functions. Before that he spent 10 years at Columbia Business School, where he ran Executive Education, successfully seeing it through the challenges of the 2007–2008 financial crisis, and for a period also served as assistant dean of Executive MBA programs.

LEN ELMORE, J.D.

Len Elmore, J.D., is a former collegiate basketball All-American at the University of Maryland at College Park; a 10-year professional basketball player with the American Basketball Association and National Basketball Association; an attorney; and a 31-year sports television announcer, having worked with ESPN, CBS Sports, and Fox Sports/FS1. Upon conclusion of his professional basketball career in 1984, Elmore received his law degree from Harvard Law School in 1987 as the first NBA player to graduate from that institution.

Elmore has served as a prosecutor in Kings County (Brooklyn), New York, as Of Counsel and Senior Counsel with several noted law firms, as the principal in a sports management company, and as a private-sector business leader.

Currently, Elmore is senior lecturer in the Sports Management program at Columbia University's School of Professional Studies, where he was awarded the 2019 Dean's Excellence Award. He presently serves as a director on the public company board of 1800Flowers.com. He is a commissioner on the Knight Commission for Intercollegiate Athletics, where he chairs the Racial Equity Task Force.

In August 2020, Elmore was appointed to the Board of Advisors for the Shirley Povich Center at the University of Maryland at College Park's Philip Merrill College of Journalism. He also remains involved with several charitable organizations.

JENIFER BLOODSWORTH

Jenifer Bloodsworth is a proud member of the inaugural cohort of Columbia University's Master of Professional Studies in Wealth Management. During her time at Columbia, she served as the Student Government Wealth Management representative, the treasurer of the Women in Wealth Management Club, and a member of the Wealth Management Club. Along with the rest of her cohort, she helped fund the Wealth Management Advancing Diversity Fellowship, which is the first student-funded fellowship offered at the School of Professional Studies. She has worked in financial services for eight years and currently serves as a national account manager for First Eagle Investments. She would like to thank her husband, parents, and extended family, who have been instrumental in helping her achieve her dreams.

ADAM GERBER

Adam Gerber came to the School of Professional Studies after 15 years in theater and nonprofit arts education. Understanding the critical need to acknowledge social inequities, he rooted his teaching in arts advocacy—providing free acting training to high school students and bringing live productions to diverse communities that lacked access to the performing arts. In 2019, Adam leveraged his adaptability, highly advanced communications skills, and relationship-building expertise and pivoted to a career in residential real estate sales and rentals. He is a member of the Leibowitz Team at Douglas Elliman—one of the top-producing teams company-wide. As an SPS student, Adam has contributed to a wide variety of student-led organizations with a mission to enhance the student experience. Positions have included president of the SPS Student Government, vice president of the SPS Student Government, part-time Strategic Communication ambassador, and SPS delegate for the Interschool Governing Board at Columbia University. Armed with the experiences, skill sets, and information embedded in him through SPS and the Strategic Communication program, Adam is eager to continue growing his real estate business and spending more time with his unparalleled wife, Michal, and his beautiful son, Benjamin.
