2023

FRIDAY, MAY 12, 2023

MORNING CEREMONY, 10:00 A.M. (ET)

AFTERNOON CEREMONY, 1:45 P.M. (ET)

COLUMBIA UNIVERSITY IN THE CITY OF NEW YORK

ABOUT THE SCHOOL OF PROFESSIONAL STUDIES

The Columbia University School of Professional Studies is committed to providing diverse, innovative programs to enable students to succeed in their educational and professional development. Our programs utilize Columbia University's leadership in research and education to deliver flexible traditional and nontraditional programs to meet students where they are in their lives. SPS is dedicated to enabling access to education in order to create a richer and more equitable society.

The School's programs are offered in multiple formats: from online asynchronous degree programs that enable full-time professionals to continue their development to intensive in-person programs that enable students to immerse themselves in their studies. Our programs serve high school students, undergraduate and graduate students, and the University's neighbors at every stage of their personal and professional lives. Our Student Life and co-curricular programs ensure that students are able to access career coaching and development, special events and programs, and a wide array of clubs. The Academic Affairs division ensures programs draw on the latest research to ensure our students are equipped to innovate across sectors and mobilizes distinguished practitioner adjunct faculty to translate research into practice.

TROY J. EGGERS

Troy Eggers has served Columbia with great distinction for more than two decades. Since joining the University in 2000, Eggers has excelled in a variety of senior positions within Columbia Business School, the School of International and Public Affairs, and the Office of the Provost. As executive vice provost, he oversaw critical areas of academic management—financial planning, faculty housing, human resources, travel, emergency protocols, and space planning—in addition to oversight of the International Students & Scholars Office; Columbia University Press; the University Seminars; and the Alliance joint venture among Columbia, École Polytechnique, Sciences Po, and Paris 1 Panthéon-Sorbonne University. Eggers has also served as a member of the University’s Emergency Management Operations Team.

Prior to his time in the Office of the Provost, Eggers served as senior associate dean of the School of International and Public Affairs, responsible for all student-related and administrative departments and functions. Before that he spent 10 years at Columbia Business School, where he ran Executive Education, successfully seeing it through the challenges of the 2007–2008 financial crisis, and for a period also served as assistant dean of Executive MBA programs.

FACULTY ADDRESS
SARAH HOLLOWAY

Sarah Holloway is the interim program director for the M.S. in Nonprofit Management at the School of Professional Studies (SPS) and a member of the faculty at the School of International and Public Affairs (SIPA), a position she has held since 2007. She teaches social entrepreneurship, design and innovation, and nonprofit management and finance. Holloway's focus outside the classroom has been on developing solutions in the U.S. public education system addressing equity and access disparities—including cofounding the education technology start-ups Mouse.org and Computer Science for All (CSforALL) and, most recently, The Wellness Classroom, an effort to identify promising programs that address and mitigate the adolescent mental health crisis.

Holloway is also cofounder and director of eLab, an online fellowship aimed at bringing together problem-solvers, experts, and entrepreneurs in K-12, higher education, and the future of work. The fellowship has provided leadership training and support to more than 150 ed-tech startups in the United States and Latin America. Holloway sits on the board of CSforALL, Five One Labs, Eat Offbeat, BenefitKitchen, Open StartUp, and Gotham Gives. She received her B.A. in art history from Bowdoin College and her M.P.A. from SIPA.

BETH FISHER-YOSHIDA, PH.D.

As professor of professional practice, Beth Fisher-Yoshida, Ph.D., teaches classes in negotiation, conflict resolution, and conflict analysis. Her approach to learning is based on her core belief that when we improve communication by developing more self-awareness, we will have better relationships and improved negotiation practices. Fisher-Yoshida is co-executive director of the Advanced Consortium on Cooperation, Conflict, and Complexity (AC4) and director of the Youth, Peace and Security (YPS) program, both housed in the Earth Institute at Columbia University. In her role at YPS, she has been working to develop systemic approaches to building more effective communities through youth leadership in Medellín, Colombia. Fisher-Yoshida is the author of New Story, New Power: A Woman's Guide to Negotiation (Bold Story Press, 2023). This practical book is inspired by Fisher-Yoshida's decades of research and experience coaching hundreds of professional women in the workplace. She has also written numerous articles and chapters, edited books, and authored a book on transnational leadership. Her main areas of focus are coordinated management of meaning (CMM), negotiation, intercultural communication, conflict resolution, and transformative learning. As vice chair of faculty of the School of Professional Studies, Fisher-Yoshida collaborates with the chair of faculty and the senior associate dean of academic affairs to coordinate and manage the School's academic governance committees—specifically, the Committee on Instruction, Faculty Review Committee, and Executive Committee.

STUDENT ADDRESS
CAITLIN LASHER

Caitlin Lasher is a Master of Science candidate in the discipline of Nonprofit Management at the Columbia University School of Professional Studies. She is both a first-generation college graduate and the first in her family to earn a master's degree. During her time at Columbia, she served in a multitude of leadership positions, including as at-large representative, secretary, and vice president of SPS Student Government; as the SPS representative for the Student Advisory Committee of the Presidential Search; and, most recently, as president of SPS Student Government for the 2022–2023 academic year. In her various leadership roles, she implemented and strengthened a number of new events and initiatives to benefit SPS students.

Outside the classroom, Lasher began her career in philanthropy as an annual fund associate for a private school and currently is a senior associate for major giving at UNICEF USA. Lasher is a 2019 graduate of Hobart and William Smith Colleges, where she served as student trustee and was the founder and president of her sorority, Theta Phi Alpha. She would like to thank her family, friends, colleagues, mentors, and classmates for cheering her on to earning her master's.

STUDENT ADDRESS
LAVAR MATTHEWS

Lavar Matthews is a graduate in the discipline of Human Capital Management. He is an experienced senior program and operations manager currently serving as an active-duty Army officer in Virginia, with more than eight years of active service. Matthews is also a certified diversity executive and has been recognized professionally for his advocacy for underrepresented groups and commitment to diversity, equity, inclusion, and accessibility (DEIA). He was elected to serve on the Columbia University School of Professional Studies DEIA Committee and worked to facilitate campus activities, such as the DEIA SPS Student Office Hour session, which involved teaching DEIA principles to the SPS student body. Matthews also served on other panels, including the Power and Equity in Work Settings panel at SPS. In his current organization, the U.S. Army, he has worked to institutionalize inclusive leadership practices through events and other initiatives.
